DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Racine 5,806,240.

Schmidt et al. disclose a watering jug (16) for watering plants, which comprises a container (18) for holding water, having a top with a central hole defined therein for use in filling the jug as seen in Figure 1, a plurality of supports (52, 54) at bottom of the container, for holding the watering jug in an upright position, a delivery pipe (34) and a valve (46) combination near the bottom of the container having a pin-sized hole (31) of a predetermined diameter so as to allow trickling of water, for steady and uninterrupted watering of the soil around the plants (col. 2, ll. 64-67 onto col. 3, ll. 1-2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3754

4. Claims 2-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Racine 5,806,240 in view of Kirchner 2,551,842.

Racine has taught all the features of the claimed invention except that a stepped up bottom. Kirchner shows a container having a stepped up bottom/slopped bottom (21, note: the stepped bottom of Kirchner is the portion of element (21) onto the bowl portion of the container before element (20/cylindrical sidewall)).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Racine's container bottom by having a stepped up bottom as taught by Kirchner in Figure 1, in order to provide complete drainage of the product.

5. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Racine 5,806,240 in view of Dennie 2,831,610.

Racine has taught all the features of the claimed invention except that a removable cap for the delivery pipe. Dennie teaches the use of a removable cap (26) for a delivery pipe (7),

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide Dennie's removable cap (26) onto Racine's delivery pipe as taught by Dennie in Figure 1, in order to prevent the contents of the container from being emptied prior to removal of the cap.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Schmidt et al. 5,252,302, Diveley 6,488,171, Daley 3,170,601,

Art Unit: 3754
